SCHOOL MATHS CLUB

Maths clubs raise the profile of maths as a subject; they increase engagement and show children that maths can be playful, exciting, and full of wonder. Holding a weekly maths club lets us take off our curriculum jacket and work more informally with children while engaging them in a variety of activities for mathematical sense-making. Working with peers from other classes and year groups helps children share ideas and cultivate their mathematical development. Our Maths clubs have the potential to really make a difference by feeding these attitudes back into regular lessons. An effective maths club can help interest in maths spread. Maths club is dedicated to extra-curricular maths get-togethers that breathe new life into maths beyond the classroom. They come in all shapes and sizes and there is no one model that works for every school. However, they all focus on two things: having fun with maths and learning.
